NEW TERMS

THE PEACE TALK

GERMANY WANTS HER
COLONIESWESTERN FRONT
NO REST FOR ENEMYITALIAN BATTLESHIP SUNK

An American message states that Germany is making a further peace effort, and that the new terms include the evacuation of Belgium with an indemnity, and the evacuation of France, Rumania, Serbia, and Poland without indemnities.

A condition of the same authority says, is that the Allies must return Germany's colonies, and must not take territory from Germany's allies.

In the fighting northward of the Acre, on the Western front, the prisoners taken by the British numbered 204. The Germans claim to have made some captures also.

The Rumanians have, according to a Russian official report, been successful near Monastirka and Kachinul, throwing back the enemy, occupying their trenches, and capturing several machine guns.

The Italian battleship Regia Margherita struck two mines and sank in a few minutes, nearly 700 lives being lost.

WESTERN FRONT.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

R. Douglas Haig's midnight report on Saturday stated, The enemy broke into one of our posts north-west of Serre, but was immediately driven out. We drove off a raiding party westward of Serre. We successfully carried out a minor enterprise westward of Wytschaete.

R. Douglas Haig on Friday reported, The prisoners taken northward of the Acre now number 204. We entered trenches at two points northward of Armentières and took prisoners.

A Paris communiqué states, The day was quiet on the whole front. There was intermittent bombardment in Belgium, south of the Somme, Lorraine, and the Vosges.

GERMAN REPORTS.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

A German official report states, The English twice made attacks north of the Acre. Our counter-attack north of Bapaume threw them back from positions gained. We took fifty prisoners.

A little German official report says, We successfully repulsed the majority of British attacks against Serre. The enemy occupied one advanced post.

WINTER WARFARE.

NO REST FOR ENEMY.

LONDON, Jan. 13.

Mr. Philip Gibbs, the war correspondent of the "Daily Chronicle," writes, The masses north of Boulogne Haast was the continuation of a series of small encounters during the past two days. They have not been big fights, but have been important locally, and show clearly the character of winter warfare, the spirit of our men, and the effect of our definite and deadly policy of hammering the enemy, especially with high explosives, and giving him no rest.

Germany made the first move on January 5 leading up to recent events. He sent a small post in front of Serre. We then decided to take two points and had them up as a protective barrier for raiding parties. On the 6th we captured the post. The Germans counter-attacked, but in the first order 20 or 30 were killed and the remainder crawled back. The second attack was broken up as soon as it started.

Then the fighting grew grimmer and grimmer. The area was held until we were holding two miles of front.

British detachments on January 10, following up the barrier, penetrated dugouts and gave the enemy the choice of death or capture. All surrendered, including several officers, wet, miserable, and nervebroken.

The attack on January 11 was made in greater strength on a misty morning, over a snow-covered plain. We were too quick for the enemy, and pierced the dugouts before the machine guns were brought out. We gave the enemy the same choice as before. Some officers tried to rally their men, but those who resisted were all killed.

An important feature of these local battles is the spirit of the British troops, which has not weakened, and is as grim as ever, despite the hardships and foul weather. Behind them are unshed tears which pursue their destructive work all day long and all night long inhumanly.

RIGA FRONT.

RUSSIA'S SUDDEN BLOW.

ENEMY RESISTANCE.

LONDON, Jan. 13.

A Petrograd report says the Germans are resisting obstinately in the Riga offensive near Riga, and are concentrating strongly at Lake Babit and the village of Kainu. A large village is converted into a strongpoint.

The Germans lost enormously near Kainu. The 14th, 22nd, and 32nd regiments were almost entirely destroyed, and over 1000 prisoners have traversed Riga.

The Russian blow was so unexpected and violent that the enemy was unable to blow up a bridge near Kainu, which is now facilitating the transport of Russians across the As.

ENEMY BEATEN BACK.

(Admiralty—per Wireless Press.)

A Russian official message says, An enemy attack in dense formation at Kainu was beaten back.

FIGHT IN THE AIR.

BRITISH PILOTS' ESCAPE.

LONDON, Jan. 13.

It is officially announced that two British aeroplanes were reconnoitring in the eastern Mediterranean. Upon arriving at their destination they found two hostile machine-patrolling and an engagement ensued. The enemy machines were driven off. One of the British machines was hit and it descended. The captain immediately burnt the machine. The other machine descended to the rescue, and the stranded captain succeeded in climbing over the engine cow. Both pilots escaped while many of the enemy were approaching.

SUBMARINES.

THREE MORE VICTIMS.

LONDON, Jan. 13.

Lloyd's report that the following vessels have been sunk—

British: Beaurofot (1720 tons).

French: Evangelos (575 tons).

Russian: Ruby (949 tons).

A consignment of pearls insured for £26,000 was lost when the Arabia was sunk.

ANOTHER STEAMER GONE.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

The steamer Excellent, 1944 tons, registered at Sunderland, has been torpedoed. The master and mate were taken prisoners. The remainder were put in an open boat, and 30 hours elapsed before they landed.

NEUTRAL SHIPPING.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 14.

According to the "Berlingske Tidende," one of the leading daily newspapers in Copenhagen, a prominent official of the German Foreign Office has declared that the submining of neutral shipping will not be increased.

TO THE BITTER END.

PARIS, Jan. 13.

The first news of the attempted air raid on Thursday night, when Zeppelins and aeroplanes were reported to be flying southward, arrived from Bray-Sur-Somme. The searchlights of the city secured the snow-clad sky.

Aeroplanes ascended at Bray and pursued the enemy, who was seen at Meulan. It is understood that heavy gunfire at Meulan forced the raiders to flee.

ITALIAN TREATIES.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

Italy has denounced her commercial treaties with Japan, Rumania, Russia, Serbia, Spain, and Switzerland, which laps at the end of 1917.

MUNITIONS.

ENSURING MAXIMUM OUTPUT.

PARIS, Jan. 12.

M. Thomas (Minister for Munitions) has stated that, in view of the existing strikes of the "Daily Chronicle" writers, the Government has summoned a conference of employers and workers in munition factories in order to ensure the maximum of output. Although a Socialist, he is realistic that war production must be the first consideration. As soon as the strikes were settled a new basis of pay must be introduced, also compulsory arbitration.

UNWILLING POLES.

LONDON, Jan. 12.

A Berlin message states that since the German Emperor's proclamation of the Kingdom of Poland to December 31, 1864, Poles have rallied, of whom 1000 were found to be medically unfit. Many many were sent for the sake of the many.

The Germans boasted that they would have 5000 Poles under arms in the spring.

UNION JACK CLUB.

A HANDSOME DONATION.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

Mr. Heath Harrison, High Sheriff of Hampshire, has presented the Union Jack with a cheque for £44,000, making with a previous anonymous donation, £50,000.

HUNGER IN AUSTRIA.

PEOPLE WANT PEACE.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

Many correspondents give increasingly distressing stories of hunger among the lower classes in Vienna.

A Berlin message says serious rioting took place at Gratz. Huge crowds in the streets demanded increased rations, and shouting to meet what she expects will be a tremendous Allied offensive in the spring. It is believed that the German method will be to hold the line in the west while von Hindenburg strikes a blow in the east.

The newspapers state that the reference to the disagreements caused a great sensation.

FOR PEACE.

NEW GERMAN TERMS

IN PRESIDENT'S HANDS.

ALLIES MAKE IMPRESSION.

LONDON, Jan. 13.

A message from New York on Friday says, The fact that the Allies terms include nothing for Great Britain has made the deepest impression. The fact that the British are fighting for the benefit of humanity and civilization with unprecedented selflessness destroys Count Bernstorff's attempts to persuade America that the British are using the Allies as a cat's-paw.

The opinion is expressed in Washington that Germany intends to make a further peace effort, and in all probability will publish her terms.

ENEMY BEATEN BACK.

(Admiralty—per Wireless Press.)

A Russian official message says, An enemy attack in dense formation at Kainu was beaten back.

FIGHT IN THE AIR.

BRITISH PILOTS' ESCAPE.

LONDON, Jan. 13.

A message from the German Foreign Office says, The German Empire has made further progress northward of the Silesian Valley, taking 174 prisoners. Strong enemy attacks in the Oder Valley, and Kachinul, with troops drawn from other lines. Every village is converted into a strongpoint.

The Germans lost enormously near Kainu. The 14th, 22nd, and 32nd regiments were almost entirely destroyed, and over 1000 prisoners have traversed Riga.

The Russian blow was so unexpected and violent that the enemy was unable to blow up a bridge near Kainu, which is now facilitating the transport of Russians across the As.

ITALIAN LOSS.

BATTLESHIP SUNK.

HEAVY DEATH-ROLL.

LONDON, Jan. 13.

A Russian official report on Friday states, The enemy pressed us back slightly south of the Oltz River. The Rumanians repulsed an attack west of Monastirka and Kachinul, and threw back the enemy two versts (nearly a mile and a half) southwards.

A later Russian communiqué states, An enemy aerial squadron bombed the station and town of Radzivill. Our aeroplanes machine-gunned from a height of 5000 feet a battery near Krushov, 20 versts east of Zolotchev.

The enemy pressed back detachments from a height northwards of the Silesian River.

The Rumanians attacked westwards of Braila, taking prisoner 400 of the garrison. They are fighting for the benefit of humanity and civilization with unprecedented selflessness destroys Count Bernstorff's attempts to persuade America that the British are using the Allies as a cat's-paw.

The opinion is expressed in Washington that Germany intends to make a further peace effort, and in all probability will publish her terms.

GERMAN STORY CORRECTED.

LOST BRITISH CRUISER.

LONDON, Jan. 13.

A German wireless message reports that a British cruiser of the Juno type was destroyed by a direct hit at Portmoyne.

The British Admiralty states, No British cruiser was sunk. Presumably the report refers to the loss of the seaplane carrier Ben My Chree of Kastellorizo (Asia Minor).
